MESSAGE

It gives me immense pleasure to congratulate the Sikkim State Allied & Healthcare Council (SSAHC) on the launch of its official website.

The launch of this dedicated portal is a timely and commendable initiative. By providing a centralized platform for registration, policy dissemination, and professional guidance, it is heartening to know that the Council is ensuring that our healthcare workforce remains globally competitive while remaining locally rooted in the spirit of service.

Our allied healthcare workers are the backbone of our medical system and the Government of Sikkim acknowledges their hard work and dedication. The Council represents our state's commitment to formalizing, regulating, and elevating the standards of healthcare education and service delivery in Sikkim.

I am confident that this website will serve as an invaluable resource for professionals. I extend my warmest greetings and best wishes to the Council and all members of the allied healthcare fraternity for their dedicated service to the people of Sikkim.
